THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. Various large units of the Yugoslav Armed Forces have reportedly undergone reorganization recently.¹ The reorganization has reportedly manifested itself in the following ways:
 - a. Existing Military Districts have been disbanded and been replaced by four Military Districts² with headquarters in:
 - (1) Belgrade;
 - (2) Skoplje;
 - (3) Sarajevo; and
 - (4) Zagreb.
 - b. Some armies have been reportedly divided into rifle corps which comprise two or three infantry divisions;
 - c. The Air Force has been reorganized into Air Corps;
 - d. Artillery divisions have been formed;
 - e. Large military units have been equipped with modern arms and munitions;
 - f. Special groups trained for guerrilla warfare have allegedly been formed. These units will purportedly be attached to large functional units; and
 - g. The technical and professional knowledge of commanding officers and specialists in the Yugoslav Armed Forces has improved.
2. As a result of the stated reorganization of the Yugoslav Army, the following military units have been affected:
 - a. The 4 Army with headquarters in Ljubljana has been renamed the 23 Corps;³ and
 - b. The 2 Artillery with headquarters in Zagreb has been renamed the 11 Corps.

Both of the stated Corps are under the command of the 5 Military District in Zagreb.⁴

Location of Air Divisions

3. The 22 Air Division reportedly has its headquarters at Zadar,⁵ the 44 Air Division is reported to have its headquarters at Pulj, and the 37 Air Division headquarters are reported to be at Cerklje. The 32 "plese" (sic - wing?) of the 37 Air Division was formerly autonomous, but is now reported to be under the command of the 1 Air Corps. Other unidentified air divisions are reported to be stationed in Serbia and Macedonia.

Class of 1931 drafted

4. The class of 1931,⁶ will allegedly be called up in October and November. Conscripts were reportedly called up uninterruptedly during the spring and summer months. The older classes were given military training for a period of three months.

Paramilitary activities

5. All paramilitary members, both male and female in the Split area have reportedly been divided into six guerrilla divisions, a naval brigade and a merchant marine brigade.⁷ Membership in the Split area comprises some 20,000 individuals. These new divisions are reported to be under the command of the Split Military Command, which is prepared to defend Split and the military installations in the Split area in the event of war.
6. The Kragujevac Military Technical Institute is reportedly producing a new hand-held anti-tank rocket launcher⁸ and other unspecified weapons.⁹
